For the past 40 years, Women's Crisis Center has been here to assist people who have experienced interpersonal violence. What began as a dream in 1975 of a few determined individuals to provide basic and dignified services to rape victims has grown and expanded to include a 24-hour emergency hotline, 2 domestic violence shelters, 5 walk-in offices, and a best practice prevention education curriculum for high schools, colleges and the communities in the 13-county Northern Kentucky area.

Women's Crisis Center has developed a longstanding community presence in Northern Kentucky, Maysville and Greater Cincinnati. We've been able to offer free 24/7 service responsiveness and survivor-centered advocacy programs because of our strong community partnerships, and outstanding support from community members. In 2015, WCC assisted 1,490 survivors of domestic violence and sexual assault. We continue to lead our local communities in the social change needed to end domestic violence, rape and sexual abuse and understand that everything counts when getting victims one step closer to peace.

Women's Crisis Center (WCC) is a 501(c)(3), nonprofit social service agency committed to leading our community in the social change needed to end domestic violence, rape, and sexual abuse. Services are provided confidentially and at no cost to our clients. To learn more visit www.wccky.org.
